“Now the time has come. nowhere to run.
Might get burned up by the sun but I'll have my fun.
I've been loved, pushed aside. I've been crushed
By tumbling tide and my soul has been psychedelized.
Now the time has come there are things to realize.
Time has come today. Time has come today.”
/Chambers Brothers

Ladies and Gentleman. The time has come. Today is as good as any day to find the time to start a new path. To change your direction. To alter your course. To eat dinner at breakfast. To go for a walk at midnight. To order an unfamiliar dish. To tell a very funny joke. Because .. if not now, when? When will it be the right time to take a chance? When will you find the time?

If not now, when? Would tomorrow be better? Or, the day after? You can put off what you need to do today until ... But, wouldn't you just be wasting your time? And, that's a sad thought.

“Time is what we want most but what we use worst.” /William Penn

Don't rush me. I have plenty of time. I have time to eat, time to chew, time to brush my teeth, time to sneeze (because it doesn't take too much time and, it's really such a joy to just .. sneeze?).

I always have the time to laugh because laughter has the power to make time stand still. We pause to listen to a joke. We anxiously wait for the punchline. And, then, we laugh. There is always time to laugh because it's the elixir of life.

I often say “Don't rush me. I have enough time to get it done. But, what are you doing now? Why is now not the right time? It could be. It should be. If it's on your mind, it's the right time. It's fresh. Unedited. Honest.

“Time isn't the main thing. It's the only thing.”
/Miles Davis

“If I could save time in a bottle
The first thing that I'd like to do
Is to save every day
'Til eternity passes away
Just to spend them with you
If I could make days last forever
If words could make wishes come true
I'd save every day like a treasure and then

Again, I would spend them with you
/Jim Croce

Find the time to be happy. And, spread your happiness. It's a wonderful way to spend your time.
